GREENWICH FACES THE GREAT WAR

Commemorating the 100th Anniversary of WWI

World War I was a conflict that redefined the role of the U.S. and changed its citizens' perception of their place in the world order forever. While many well-known individuals played defining roles in relief, supply and military efforts, all residents played a part in the war effort. This multimedia exhibition documents the experiences of citizens from every walk of life to tell the story of the Great War.

(Each person is to buy his/her own ticket and can arrange to meet other members at the Studio.)

On Golden Pond is a charming slice-of-life-play that encompasses universal themes such as aging, love, resentment, loss, forgiveness, acceptance and renewal. It deals with a family coming to grips with finality and reflection as to whether or not they "measured up." The setting is Golden Pond, Maine, the Thayer's summer retreat where they have come for a long time and where they face perhaps their last summer.

The first day of spring is Friday,
March 20, 2015!
